TRACERY BEATS LONG SET.

NEWMARKET, Oct. 14.—The Second October Meeting opened to-day in fine but dull weather, and we had the satisfaction of seeing the course in excellent trim. It is to be hoped the conditions will be equally good for the Cesarewitch to-morrow. Not so long since there locked likely to be some thirty runners, but there have been many withdrawals, some of the best-backed candidates failing in their preparations. Still, there will be plenty of competitors, as the list of probable starters shows, yr st lb

Nothing more regrettable has been heard, this season than that so many excellent two-rear-olds have become thick winded, and so spoiling all noises of the brilliant disciplent of the property of the color came out now in the Clearwell Stakes, decided over the excist five furlong course here, called the T.Y.C.

Bookmakers were pleased to trade in the circumstances at theral raties about Stornoway, although only three others were backed and for little money. Stornoway practically made all the running and won easily by three lengths, so there is no doubt he will compete on Friday in the Middle Park Plate.

Danjons were so sharply divided as to the merits of cery and Long Sct, racing at level weights over the mill a quarter in the Champion Stakes that only a slight de of odds marked the difference in the betting. There no close thing in the contest. Tracery forcing the run g, led all the way. He had Long Set in sore trouble one-reaching the Dip, and won amid great cheering from spectators. It was simply a vindication of Tracery's erfor class.

Big Trials for Oxford and Cambridge in Opening Games.

Oxford and Cambridge have started on the Freshmen matches. On Saturday the Dark Blues are at the Old Deer Park, meeting the Old Merchant Taylors, and Cambridge receive a visit from the Old Leysians. In both these contests the University men, on the recent club form, will be hard pressed.

the Old Leysians. In both these contests the University men, on the recent club form, will be hard pressed.

It is always pleasant to record the fact that the rival Blues have turned out, as until they have done so the season does not really seem to have begun. Until the great struggle at Queen's Club the games in which they take part voite mere general and genuine interest than the ordinary clab encounters. Such is always the case in matters of sport where University men are concerned. Already the prospects of the Universities have been discussed, but it must be more or less guessowrs. (From Our Special Correspondent.)

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Truly is George Duncan coming into his kingdom. Last week at Walton Heath he won first prize in the £490 tournament, and today at Chantilly he followed up that fine performance by securing the open championship of France with a total of 304 strokes for the seventy-two holes. Including the competition at St. George's Hill, in which he gained first place, Duncan's share of the prize money in the fournaments of the last twelve days has been £176. And he is a reason great form at the present time that the last is no reason great form at the present time that the last is no reason specially an increase in a reason great form at the present time that the last is no reason great form at the present time that the last is no reason great form at the present time that the last is no reason great form at the present time that the last is no reason great form at the present time that the last is not reason great form at the present time that the last is not reason great form at the present that the same look sublimely easy and hits his shots as though there was no possible chance of error.

His putting was one of the chief features of the day's golf. More than any other competitor he seemed to have soft the reason provide the rest his play on the greens and their many undulations. In the morning he missed a putt at the ninth and in the alternoon he took three putts at the third, but for the rest his play on the greens was splended.

Until a year ago Duncan was inclined to be over-anxious when his chances of winning were of the very roasest, and that weakness undoubtedly cost him a lot-including possibly the open championships of 1910 and 1911. But the special provides the service of the provident of the rest his play on the greens was still a chance that he has overcome this old failing of men the provident of the providen
