

KEYSOE'S TRAINER EXPLAINS.

WHY MR. LAMBERTON BACKED BUCHAN FOR LEGER.

GOOD NIGHT!

A host of quotations do not constitute an anti-pop market. The layers at the club this week must be rather tired of failing to find their ideas of generosity reciprocated. Keysoe's elimination undoubtedly cast a damper on speculation, and really there has been no genuine business yet worth recording. The sufferers over Lord Derby's filly are those who—like her trainer—backed her before the St. Leger or coupled her since in doubt.

The reasons I gave yesterday for the unexpected scratching are confirmed—Lord Derby does not wish to overtax his filly with a severe Coseweth preparation, as she is freely engaged in the big race next year. There is no reason, however, why she should not be sent over for the Irish St. Leger or be kept for one or more of her autumn engagements in this country. She is engaged in the Kingsclere Stakes at Newbury next week, the Severn first Triennial and next week, the Royal Stakes in Coseweth week, and the Liverpool St. Leger in November. If you eliminate Buchan, the opposition does not seem particularly strong in any instance.

TURNING POINT.

There is a general impression that Childa had waiting orders on Major Astor's colt in the St. Leger, but this is not a fact. I am inclined to think that the colt could not—or would not—go, and some other jockeys riding in the race are surprised that he got third even, for he seemed a beaten horse a long way from home. It may be as well to remember that he was interfered with—Pomme de Terre was nearly knocked over—but I shall be reluctant to support Buchan again when the distance exceeds a mile, and a quarter.

Mr. George Lambton confirms my statement that Keysoe could not be given an orthodox preparation for the Doncaster classic, and says that after the race he was not so hard, and was so distressed after her long gallops that he thought her chances hopeless. The turning point came in the Sunday gallop before Doncaster, when he wrote to Lord Derby to say that he had still some faint hope, but in Mr. Lambton's own words: "Three weeks' work, however, has been done, and it was only her indomitable pluck that kept her going."

So far as backing her for the St. Leger, the trainer admits that he has not seen the race he took £500 to £150 about her for the Coseweth, and on Leger morning laid £500 to £100 on Buchan, as "I thought, he could only win at Doncaster, but I was certain to beat Key."

THE PANTHER.

Perhaps a training genius can tell if it is not marvellous that the two Thousand, Derby, and St. Leger have in turn been won by horses that could not be found at the Pantheon (with the exception of the latter, which again for the Cambridgehire) was well beaten in his Guineas gallop, and I was given the other day the weights carried. He was not asked an impossible task by any means, and I am not surprised that the original intention was to run Cygnus as well and to declare to win with him. When there was a heavy rain, he was sent before the Pantheon. He developed cracked heels and barling has admitted to me that he dare not test the horse in a gallop before the Derby, and probably never have seen the race then.

With the case of Keysoe on top of this it chatters the theories of the hard old trainers school with the exception of Mr. Jacob Pincus, the American trainer of Tequis, used to gallop his horses immediately after the race if they did not please him. It seems fatal to expect a hot favorite to win any race with a classic title. Good Night, with a 1 to 1 odds on the dust in the Scottish Derby yesterday at Ayr. Nor did I feel, the surprise winner, make any bones about it. This result seems effectively to dispose of Good Night's Coseweth claim. Heads and short legs were the order in many other finishes, and favorites did not have an over-gate time.

WHAT A PRICE!

Lord Derby's Redhead made an easy winning debut, but everybody seemed to know he was a good thing, with the result that he had to be sold on the day for a price for first time out. It was interesting to see All White win a mile and a quarter race for Baron Omsom (Colonel Hall Walker), at this morning's Royal Ascot, expected to develop into a Grand National winner.

With the fleet at Yarmouth, it is not surprising there was a bumper holiday throng. A 20 to 1 winner led off the proceedings, and it was a case of going early all the afternoon. Little Butters—who can do with more horses than he has—has two experienced sons (both trainers in Austria) to assist him—popped up with Germaine in a nursery, and I am surprised that Picky was allowed to start at 6 to 1 in the handicap. He is one of the horses Leach has taken over from Balho, who is a 1 year, contemplating going to Australia. Mr. tip to follow Newmarket horses wanted on the left, for every winner is trained there.

Tom Pepper, who was purchased for a big price by Mr. Watkin Williams after his Chester Cup victory, has had a few races and has been a hopeless case for some time past. The Cardiff shipping magazine stands his own equine insurance risks.
