PERPLEXING MARKET ON AUTUMN HANDICAPS.

Opening Day of the First October Meeting at Newmarket.

GREY FRIARS' SELECTIONS.

Pure Gem remains in strong favouritism for the Cesarewitch, while the puzzle with regard to Mr. Lambton's pair, Glacis and Perseverance II., grows apparently more perplexing. Since Demure has been practically dismissed for that race, Brewer's stable pops up in the betting with All Black, the latter a game, honest horse, but one of whose staying power there is no evidence. However, All Black now figures at 14 to 1 for the Cesarewitch.

evet, All Black now lightes at 14 to 1 to the witch.

The slight injury suffered by Demure has been of small account, as the mare has resumed two-mile work.

The First October Meeting, which opens to-day at Newmarket, may provide interesting racing, but it will be, as usual, very quiet on the social side.

Lambton's stable should be seen in good form this afternoon, and it would seem Maher may figure as winning tokey in several races.

The crack coft, Bayardo, will have little to do in winning the Buckenham Stakes for Manton, which establishment, by the way, is responsible for half a dozen youngsters in that race.

LONDON CUP MATCHES.

Arsenal Win at Fulham-Rough Game at Homerton.

THE POSITION OF LEYTON.

The first round of the London Football Association Cup, a competition in which London's professional clubs in membership with the L.F.A. comsional clubs in membership with the L.F.A. compete against some of the strongest of the amateur bodies, was commenced yesterday. Some of the matches should be verygood ones, such encounters as the one between Fulham and Woolwich Arsenal, which was played yesterday, attracting much better crowds than the Western League scrambles. Moreover, the play was keener.

Fryer, the famous goalkeeper, who was unable to turn out at all last season owing to a broken arm, played for Fulham yesterday. Neither side was quite at full strength, but the Arsenal in all departments were clearly the better side, and throughout the game controlled the exchanges. Only one point was accred. The result of a weak clearance by Ross, the Fulham back, was that C. Satterthwaite ecored easily for the Arsenal, who thus enter the second

Only one point was scored. The result of a weak clear ance by Ross, the Fulham back, was that C. Satterthwaite scored easily for the Arsenal, who thus enter the second round.

The other match played yesterday was not so pleasant to watch. The London Caledonians were opposed to Clapton Orient, and in a rough-and-tumble match, in which Cup-tie feeling got the better of some of the players, the Calles were beaten by 4 to 1, after holding the lead for the greater part of the game. It is a pity that these roughing tactics should have been introduced into a match in which amateur and professional players were engaged, for they brought the closing stages of the game down to a level below the capabilities of both sets of players. Pechaps the L.F.A. will have their first judicial function with regard to professional football in connection with this game. A strong position must be taken up at once and maintained.

Queen's Park Rangers played another pointless draw in a Southern League match yesterday. It is the fourth drawn match the champions have taken part in in eight games. They have won twice and lost twice; have scored three goals and lost four. A curious record, certainly.

The Leyton F.C. are in trouble with the F.A. They had to play their English Cup-tie last Saturday week with Romford, and also a Southern League match with Luton. They were between the devil and the deep sea, for they were bound to play their best side in the Southern the such as the subject, the F.A. rule says:

The Cup shall be competed for annually, in accordance with the rules, by eleven members, who, unless a satisfactory reason is given, shall represent the full available strength of each competing club.

Leyton's weak team beat Romford all right by 1 to 0, but the "village team" protested that Leyton were not at full strength, and so the F.A., finding that their rules had been broken, yesterday awarded £40 compensation to Romford and fined Leyton, an additional £40. This was, of course, chaper than the £100 of the Southern League match wi

LONDON F.A. CUP.

FULHAM, O; WOOLWICH ARSEMAL, 1.—Scoring the only goal in a fairly good game at Craven Cottage, Woolwich Arsenai qualified yesterday for the second round of the new composition organised by the London Association. Both clubs made five changes in the teams that did duty on Saturday, but, whereas Fulham were seriously weakened; the Arsenai were well served by the substitutes. On an extremely warm attornion, with the sun shining brightly across the ground, the players were a good deal provided by the substitutes. The Arsenai had the best of the early play, but the only difficult shot Fryer had to deal with was by Raybould. Occasionally the Fulham forwards showed some good passing. Millington shot wide and hit the bar after a corner, but generally the Arsenai, among whom Gray played particularly well at back, maintained a very strong defence.

bladed patticularly well at back, maintained a very strong distinction of the patticularly well at back, maintained a very strong distinction of the ball weatly against Satterthwaite, who utilized the opportunity to shoot high into the net with his left foot. This was five minutes from haif-time.

Subsequently the Arsenal were again the superior side, eithough mable to increase their lead. Fullam missed a good chance of equalising, McDonaid failing after Baltymple had hit the poet, and Millington putting the ball outside at open goal. Then the Arsenal had nearly all the play. Crowle, Les and Satterthwaite doing well among the forwards. These were about 8,000 spectators.

CLAPTON ORIENT, 4; LONDON OALEBONIANS, 1.

With the imperative necessity before them of winning a masch, the Clapton Orient management put out the attengest available eleved for this match, played before 1,500 spectators at Homerton. It was probably the sampressing reason which induced the Orientals to play roughly at one stage of the game, and there would have been means for complaint had one or two of the players received LEYTON, 4; ASTON VIILLA, 3.—Although seven goals were registered at Leyton, where Leyton beat Aston Villa by 4 to 3 in a "friendly," it was rather a poor game, The match had reference to the transfer of Skiller, the goalkeeper, who "kept" for Leyton last season.

Aston Villa, who were represented by practically a reserve team, gave a trial to Taylor at right half-back. Leyton scored twice during the first half through Moles. Aston Villa reduced the lead through Kearns soon after the change of ends, but Aylwart then scored twice more for Leyton. Before the finish Whittaker and Kearns found the net for the visitors.

Skiller, who kept goal for Aston Villa, saved several good shots. There were 3,000 spectators.

INMAN BILLIARDS CHAMPION.

Melbourne Inman, the only professional to send in a challenge for the billiards championship, was yesterday granted a certificate by the Billiards Association, who decided to acknowledge his claim to the tible.

The matter of the Billiards Control Club was fully discussed, and the committee came to the conclusion that they did not feel called upon to take any special action. At present the rules of the Billiards Association would remain in force, and smategris playing in public without a permit from the association in any game where a charge-was made for admission would render themselves liable to the forfeiture of their amateur status.

It was decided to call a special general meeting of the association some time in November, at which a resolution would be automitted to the effect that no professional or billiard-table maker should in future have any vote at general meetings or any voice in the government of the association.

AUSTRALIANS ON ... THEMSELVES.

SIDE OF GOOD FELLOWS.

The Australian side, who started their tour with a win against Devon by 24 points to 3 last Saturday, are going to be about the most popular set of men who ever left any country. Their chief charm lies, perhaps, in their utter absence of conceit and their extraordinary willingness to do anything for anybody.

Then they are possessed of a fine fund of humour, and are great on practical jokes. The following are a few opinions written about each other by each other. The Australians sleep, as a rule, two in a room, and most of these sketches have been done by the subject's stable-companion:

Dr. H. Moran.—Learnt his football in the great public school Riverview. On his admittance to Sydney University played for that team, and was one of their most dashing players, representing the 'Varsity for three years in all its engagements. After taking his degree he became resident medical officer of the Newcastle Hospital, but found time to continue his football. He came to Sydney as captain of the Northern District team. He won his place in the interstate team, and afterwards in the Australian team. A very keen enthusiast in the game, he never feels disinclined to do the ardious duties necessary for training purposes, and as such has won the confidence of his men. We more familiarly call him Paddy, though his right name is Herbert.—Jas. McMahon.

M. MacArthur.—Know very little about him. Travelled in the same boat for six weeks, and slept same room four nights. Apparently no vices. As a footballer, multum in parvo, a good dribbler, fast follower up, and plays the game.—Esmond Parkinson.

P. Flanagan:—One of Queensland's best. A dashing forward, and still improving, especially as a sidestepper.

The Waratah, the badge worn on hat and Jersey by the Australian footballers.

Has two stations in Queensland, so would be a great catch, and he is still disengaged. A fine fellow, and the greatest character in the team:—H. F. Daly.

C. A. Hammond.—A Varsity student of medicine, with extreme fiduses of killing people by science and medicines. His opinions seem to point to the fact that Christian science is the safest cure. Sleeps very sound; does not dream or get nightnare, or suffer from walking in his sieep. He appears to thoroughly enjoy slumber, and appreciates it so very much that it needs an earthquake to arouse him in the morning to go for his walk. Very much in love with circus-coloured socks and patent-leather boots. Haugs everything up on the floor when retiring at night. Very fast in the open, does nothing under cover.—R. R. C. Caig.

Edie Mandible.—Presents a stiff front to almost anything. A player who does not know what fear is. Is a great rush-stopper, and is possessed of a cool head, and scires every opportunity to open things up. He will bridge almost any gap in the ugliest rushes of the situation. Can handle the game from almost any position. The owner of a large station in Woolloomooloo.—R. R. Craig.

(An Australian friend tells me Woolloomooloo is a crowded Sydney suburb.—F. B.W.)

S. A. Middleton.—Good paj; keen sense of the ridiculous. He is as good a forward as he is an oar. Fond of the game, and plays it for the game's sake.—F. Bede Smith.

F. Wood.—Well known as "Possum." Hails from the Glebe District Football Club. He has played for the above club for three seasons. As half-back he has thorough knowledge of the game. He also has the knack of knowing what way the game is likely to go. Apart from his football ability he is very popular with the general public, especially the ladies, and if he lives to be 107 the people of New South Wales will say. "There goes young Freddy."—T. S. Griffin.

These are only some of many snapshots which I am promised by the boys. It adds not a little to their courtesy that most of them hate writing as a tectotaler hates alcohol. To Cap
